GROUGE WARRINGTON LODGE, No. 285, F. AND A. M .-

Inquiry showed that, either because the clerks have not yet had practice enough to enable them to tip off a row of the new stamps with the same dexterous twist that used to work safely with the larger stamps formerly used, or because the paper for the new stamps really is poor, the clerks are having a deal of trouble. It is thought that the link used on the new stamps naw after the paper. The general ordinion is that all the less ink on the stamps would be a go of thing, anyhow. So much is at present used that the stamps have a smudgy appearance and from the same cause, or because too little care is used in printing them, the backs of the new stamps are inked as well as the front, the ink on the large of one sheet rubbing off on the back of the sheet laid on it.

Post Office officials say that the first issues of new stamps have to be more or less experimental, and also frequently have to be got out in a hurry. They think the stamps will be all right in a month or two. BROTHERS: You are summoned to attend urgent communication at lodge rooms, corner 7th s. and 3d av. Sunday, March 9, at 1 o'clock P.
